“ I will miss you forever and always mama. You meant the world to me. I'll always remember how you made it a point to tell me you loved me and that you were proud of me. I know you'll watch over me now and you will guide me through my life even if you can only give me little signs from wherever you are. I hope wherever you are right now, you're happy because you always focused on others happiness when you will always deserve your own. I love you mommy.
